RUSSIAN COLLIERIES CAPTURED BY JAPS

Skirmishing Reported to Have Begun-- Russian Fleet Sighted by Ships.

Saigon, April 17.—A number of Russian warships are anchored in Kamranh bay, where they are provisioning. The steamer Eridan sailed last evening with a full cargo of provisions for the squadron. The health of the Russians is said to be good.

Baltic Squadron.
Singapore, April 17.—The North German Lloyd steamship Prinz Heinrich reports sighted eighteen vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron in Kamranh bay at noon Friday last. The steamer did not sight any Japanese warships.

Kamranh bay is in Cochinchina, about 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

Collecting His Ships.
St. Petersburg, April 17.—No information from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, but the admiral will not be surprised to learn of skirmishing between scout ships in a day or two and the inauguration of torpedo boat warfare soon will not be unexpected.

The naval organ here expresses the opinion that Togo was taken completely by surprise when Rojestvensky suddenly appeared at the entrance to the China sea, and is now concentrating his widely scattered fleet near the Pescadores, where it is believed the sea fight will probably occur.

A Mysterious Message.
Manila, April 17.—The cruiser Rainbow, the flagship of the Philippine squadron, received a wireless telegram at 6 o'clock yesterday evening from some point estimated about sixty miles off the entrance to Manila bay as follows:
"Is there any one inside with wireless apparatus?"
The following answer was returned:
"Do you wish to communicate?"
No reply was made to the question and the torpedo boat destroyers Dale and Decatur were sent to investigate. They returned to port without having solved the mysterious message.

Skirmishing On Land.
Tokio, (noon) April 17.—The following official announcement is made:
"The force advancing north from Singking, driving the enemy before them occupied Yingcheng, thirty-eight miles north of Singking at 1 o'clock the afternoon of April 14."
"A detachment of the same force, co-operating with the cavalry, occupied Pachiatzu at 6 o'clock the evening of the same day."
"The enemy's force near Pachiatzu consisted of seven squadrons of cavalry and one battery of artillery."
"They first retreated toward Yingcheng, then came back to Pachiatzu. Finding it occupied they were thrown into confusion and retreated in great disorder over Peling Pass, two miles north of Pachiatzu."
"No change elsewhere."

Must Not Burn Stores.
London, April 17.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency reports that Gen. Linovitch issued an order forbidding officials of the commissariat to burn stores prematurely and reproving officials in cases which already have occurred. The order directs that store houses be only destroyed hereafter by permission of the commanders of army corps and divisions.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokio reports that the Japanese recovered 200 of the 500 guns which the Russians abandoned in the retreat from Mukden.

Japs Have 400,000 Men.
Sipinghai, April 17.—Captured Japanese spies place the number of the Japanese army at 400,000 and state the losses at the battle of Mukden already are being replaced by drafts from the home battalions.

Lieut. Komayashi, one of the spies, calculates the Japanese losses at Mukden at over 100,000.

Harassing Russians.
London, April 17.—Admiral Togo has begun to harass the Russian fleet. News came today from Saigon, Cochinchina, in a brief dispatch, which stated that Japanese skirmishing ships had captured a large number of Russian colliers. The naval problem is the most difficult Russians have to face.

Saw Thirty in the Fleet.
Hong Kong, April 17.—The steamer Brynhilde arrived this morning from Bangkok and reports that three Russian cruisers stopped her Friday sixty miles north of Cape Padaran. After searching the vessel she was allowed to proceed. Capt. Brynhilde counted thirty Russian warships in the fleet, to which three cruisers were attached. The warships appeared in good condition and were steaming southeast at a rate of ten knots an hour.

Cape Padaran is on the eastern coast of Cochinchina, about 150 miles northeast of Saigon.

Passed the Fleet.
London, April 17.—A message to Lloyd's from Singapore says that the German steamer Devawongse reports passing the Russian fleet last Friday in about latitude thirteen degrees, north. The vessels were laying to at the time.

Firing Was Heard.
Hong Kong, April 17.—The steamer Telemachus reports that she heard firing 150 miles north of the Natuna Islands at 3:20 o'clock p. m. April 12.

A Fourth Squadron.
St. Petersburg, April 17.—A large number of naval officers have been ordered to proceed to Libau for duty in connection with the preparation of the fourth squadron which it is proposed to send for the east.

Seven Murdered By Strikers.
Warsaw, April 17.—During the recent strike 27 workmen remained at the gasworks. The strikers swore vengeance and in spite of a guard kept over them, seven of the number have been murdered.

LIVELY FIGHT
MAYFIELD MEN MIXED IN FEDERAL COURT.

One Slightly Cut—Both Were Arrested and Will Be Punished.

Lester Blain and W. H. Traylor, Mayfield men, had a fight in the federal court room this afternoon about 2:45 o'clock in which Blain was cut on the right ear by a knife held by himself, in attempting to cut Traylor, and Traylor was cut on the right coat sleeve, the knife not reaching the skin.

The case against Speck Sawyer, for illicit whiskey selling, had just been called. Suddenly there was a commotion in the rear of the court room and two men arose fighting.

Marshal James and Deputy Blades went after the fighters and pulled them apart. They were arrested, brought before the court and an investigation held.

It seems that Traylor is indicted for whiskey selling and claimed Blain was there to testify against him. Blain claimed, Traylor called him a foul name and he invited him down stairs but struck him because he called him what he did.

Judge Eysans ordered the men into custody until he can decide what punishment to inflict for contempt of court.

THE PRESIDENT
Makes Additional Plans for His Western Trip.

Glenwood Springs, Col., April 17. Secretary Loeb announced today that in addition to the visit to Denver the president has accepted invitations to three functions in Chicago, luncheon at the Merchants' club, a reception at the Hamilton club, and dinner at the Iroquois club. No dates are set for these.

Alleged Counterfeiter Caught.
Cincinnati, April 17.—Secret service men arrested in Jeffersonville, Ind., Harvey Hicks of Clarksville, Tenn., who is said to be a member of a gang of counterfeiters that has been flooding Southern Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky with spurious silver dollars the past two months.

Hicks was arrested while attempting to pass one of the "phony" dollars on a fruit dealer, Hicks denies he is a counterfeiter, and no other bad money was found in his possession.

Goes to Cairo.
Mr. Will Lydon, car service clerk in the local I. C. freight house, has gone to Cairo as assistant soliciting agent in the Iron Mountain service.

He is succeeded here by Mr. Elmer Broadus and several changes in the minor offices will result.

WYNNE BUSY
New Consul General to London Takes Charge and Surprises His Predecessor.

London, April 17.—The arrival of the new American consul general, Robert J. Wynne, early this week probably is the event that attracted the greatest attention in the American colony. Wynne took charge of the office the day after his arrival and during the week paid and received official calls. He will remain at the Carlton hotel for the present, as he expects to be summoned back shortly to assist with the prosecution of the indicted postal officials, and will not take a house in London until he returns, when he will bring his family. H. Clay Evans (whom he succeeded) according to friends, did not expect him to arrive so soon, as Evans was going to the continent for about three months before sailing.

The vicinity of Mandum, Greer county, was much damaged, done by hail and wind.

POWDER EXPLODED AND KILLED THREE

Great Damage Wrought at Trenton Tenn., by Accident.

A Target Rifle Fired at Random Sets Off a Big Quantity of Explosive in a Warehouse.

DAMAGE NOT FULLY SETTLED.

Trenton, Tenn., April 17.—The pall of death hangs over Trenton, the result of a terrible explosion that occurred Saturday. Bob Phelan, showing some guns to a customer, stepped to the back door of his store and fired a target rifle.

A few feet from the store door was a small warehouse, where Phelan Bros. had stored an explosive, which either the sparks from the gun or the percussion ignited with the fatal results.

The dead:
ROBERT PHELAN, who fired the gun, killed instantly.

TOM ARNOLD, of near Eaton, died in an hour.

DR. JOHN PARKER, died at noon.

The injured:
John K. Pearce, terribly mangled about head and shoulders.

John P. Mitchell, of Fruitland, head hurt; may live.

John Mitchell, Sr., of Fruitland, arm and shoulder hurt.

John Klopp, artery in neck cut and other injuries.

Drew Cursey, fractured skull.

Mr. Taylor, of near Eaton, arm mangled.

Tom Jones, colored, painfully hurt.

No just estimate can be made of the damage to property. The loss will reach far into the thousands.

The injured are all in better condition today, but some have not recovered from the nervous shock. The most remarkable case is that of Jno. K. Pearce, with head and face terribly mangled, cheek and lips torn from his face, a hole in skull and other mutilations. He recognizes the voices of his friends and talks rationally.

Mr. Mitchell, it is thought, may recover, and other cases are considered hopeful.

The warehouse in which was stored the explosive—said by some to have been powder, by others dynamite, and still another report says, both powder and dynamite—was situated at the rear of Phelan Bros.' hardware store.

In speaking of the tragedy this morning Phil Phelan, of Phelan Bros. said: "I can't tell how it was further than this: Arnold, of near Eaton, came in with a gun which he had bought at our store a few days ago, saying it did not work well. Bob, who was at work on the books at the desk, took the gun, went to the rear door of the store to test the gun, and fired. I suppose he hit the little warehouse, and as the wall was very thin, the ball must have passed through, producing the explosion. It is one of the hardest things in my life's history," he continued. "We have lost much and Bob was the best partner in the firm."

THROUGH SKYLIGHT

TUMBLING SON OF C. R. SEXTON ABOUT NOON TODAY.

Little Fellow Fell Two Stories and Escaped With a Broken Thigh.

Grantman Sexton, age eight years, son of Mr. C. R. Sexton, who resides over the A. Franke plumbing shop on lower Broadway, fell from the second story of the Chinese laundry building about 12:15 today, falling through a skylight, and broke his left thigh.

The little fellow was playing about the building which is being emptied of machinery and cleaned, and got too near the skylight, falling through to the floor below. The fracture is a bad one and the boy had to be placed under the influence of chloroform before it could be set. Drs. Frank Boyd and D. T. Stuart placed the limb in a plaster cast and found no other bone broken but the little fellow is badly bruised.

ALL OVER KENTUCKY.
There Was a Heavy Frost Last Night.

Louisville, Ky., April 17.—Reports from various sections of the state tell of heavy frosts. It is said that strawberries and other fruits are badly damaged.

Bond, general counsel Baltimore & Ohio; Winslow Pierce, general counsel Gould System; President Hughitt, Northwestern; President Ripley, Santa Fe; President Tuttle Boston and Maine; Vice President Wilcox Delaware and Hudson; President Truesdale, Lackawanna; President Spencer, Southern; President Mellen, New York, New Haven and Hartford, and President Fish, Illinois Central.

MAIL CLERKS

ARE NOTIFIED OF AN IMPORTANT CHANGE IN PAY SCHEDULE.

Substitutes to Draw Substitutes' Pay When Relieving Regular Men, the Department Gets the Difference.

Railway mail clerks have been notified that after the first day of May substitute clerks will draw substitute pay and the difference between the wages of the clerks they are relieving and the pay of the substitutes will go to the department instead of the clerks. Heretofore, if an $800 substitute relieved a $1,200 clerk the latter received the difference between his own wages and those of the substitute for the time that the substitute was in his place. The net gain to the postoffice department by this ruling will be considerable, but the clerks are not altogether pleased with it.

This ruling provides a further loss to clerks when they are themselves relieving higher salaried men. In a car there may be three men whose salaries are $900, $1,200 and $1,400. If the clerk in charge takes a lay off the second clerk takes the $1,400 man's place and the $900 man takes the $1,200 job and a substitute is put in the lowest salaried place. But neither of the regular clerks who have been moved forward get the salaries that belong to the position which they are temporarily holding. The postoffice department is the gainer by the temporary arrangement at the rate of $600 a year as long as the arrangement is in effect.

If a regular clerk, during his weekly lay off is required to take the place of another regular clerk he gets the salary of the man relieved, but very little of this thing is allowed. Wherever possible a substitute will be used.

BASTARDLY CRIME.
Body of Minnesota Girl Found Bruised and Nude.

Little Falls, Minn., April 17.—There is great excitement here over the discovery of the dead body of Annie Kintop in the woods about four miles from the city. The body was nude, with a handkerchief tightly twisted about the neck, the head a mass of bruises, and bearing evidences of outrage. Two negroes were seen in the vicinity where the body was found, and search is being made for them. If caught, it is feared that lynching will follow.

Big Strike in Rome.
Rome, April 17.—The threatened strike of railway employees went into effect this morning and the whole country is affected. A large number refused to strike and by using them the roads will be able to maintain some sort of service, although it is greatly reduced.

Bunkie, La., April 17.—Howard Martin, of Bowling Green, Ky., called a meeting of all those holding stock in the new bank, at which meeting the organization was completed. The capital stock is $25,000, and the following constitute the board of directors: J. T. Johnson, G. W. Sentell, Dr. R. D. Davis, Dr. W. G. Ranch, Dr. E. S. Matthews, J. W. Lelley and B. S. STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS.
Two Hundred Go Out Because Union Was Not Recognized.

St. Louis, April 17.—Two hundred baggage, parcel, delivery and express drivers struck this morning. The company is willing to grant the wages and hours demanded, but refuses to recognize the union.

Such a Dryness and a Dullness as the Future Great Had Yesterday!

St. Louis, April 17.—For the first time in six years St. Louis was yesterday a "dry" town for 24 hours, and for the first time in history the "dryness" was complete, even side doors being closed.

Not only was it a dry Sunday, but it has been a shaveless, smokeless, shineless and almost a hungry Sunday as well. Promptly at midnight Saturday night the saloon lights were extinguished and the patrons were requested to depart at once. Barber shops immediately closed, news and cigar stands followed suit, small grocery shops and delicatessen stores shut up shop and the large downtown restaurants did not open their doors today.

S. H. Hatton, a barber, was arrested thirty minutes after the legal hour for closing, while he was engaged in trimming a patron's hair and the luckless occupant of the barber's chair was forced to plead with the policeman before the barber was allowed to finish his work. The barber was then taken to police headquarters, where he was released with a warning.

NAN PATTERSON'S CASE CALLED TODAY

Wrangle Over Possession of Letters Ensues.

The Trial Postponed Until Tomorrow So the Court May Decide the Question.

PRISONER EXPECTS ACQUITTAL.

New York, April 17.—Nan Patterson, the show girl, was brought to trial for a third time today on a charge of murdering the bookmaker, Caesar Young. A hundred and fifty men were selected from which to pick a jury. The prisoner says she is confident of acquittal.

This afternoon the trial was again adjourned until tomorrow pending certain injunction proceedings, brought by counsel for J. Morgan Smith to secure the return to Smith of letters seized while under arrest in Cincinnati.

Justice Gaynor, of the supreme court, Brooklyn, Saturday issued an order compelling District Attorney Jerome and Assistant Attorney Rand to surrender forthwith all letters and documents held by them and belonging to J. Morgan Smith and wife. The order was issued by Judge Gaynor at his house on the ex-parte application of counsel for the Smiths.

The letters and papers called for in Justice Gaynor's order were seized at the time of the arrest of the Smiths in Cincinnati. Asked as to the object for securing the letters counsel for the Smiths said:

"I wish to gain possession of my client's property in order the better to be able to defend them. I do not know what the letters contain, as Mr. Jerome has refused to let me see them."

STARTED A BANK.
And a Bowling Green Man May Pay the Penalty With His Life.

New Orleans, April 17.—Because a Louisiana banker resisted the formation of another bank in Bunkie, La.; Howard Martin, of Bowling Green, Ky., the organizer and cashier of the new bank, was fatally stabbed in the back by Dr. W. D. Hass, the president of the Merchants and Planters' bank of that place.

There has been considerable feeling against Martin since he organized the new bank. Several articles reflecting on Dr. Hass' bank appeared in a Bunkie paper, and it was claimed they were inspired by Martin. Martin went to Hass' office to deny this claim and was ordered out. In the quarrel that followed Hass seized Martin about the neck and plunged a dagger into his back, near the heart. Martin is expected to die.

Hass has not been arrested. He is one of the best known politicians of Louisiana, and is interested in business enterprises all over the state.

My Offer to Kidney Sufferer

I will give you a full dollar's worth of my remedy free to try without cost or deposit or promise to pay.

I could not make this offer—a full dollar's worth free—if mine were an ordinary kidney remedy. It is not. It treats not the kidneys themselves, but the nerves that control them. The cause of kidney trouble lies always in these nerves. The only way to cure kidney trouble is by strengthening and vitalizing and restoring these kidney nerves. This is exactly what my remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—does. Therefore I can make this offer with the certain knowledge that every kidney sufferer who makes this trial will be helped.

When I say "nerves," I do not mean the ordinary nerves of feeling, thought, action. I mean the automatic nerves, which right and day, unguided and unseen, control and operate every vital process of life. These are the master nerves. The kidneys are their slaves. Your mind cannot control them. Your will cannot sway them. Yet when they are strong, you are well; when they are not, you weaken and die.

I have written a book on the "kidneys" which will be sent when you write. This book explains fully and clearly how these tiny, tender "inside" nerves control not only the kidneys but each of the other vital organs.

I have made my offer that stranger to my remedy may know. It is not intended for or open to those who have used my remedy. They need no further evidence. But to those who have not heard or hearing, may have delayed or doubted, I say "simply write and ask." I will send you an order for which your druggist will hand you a full dollar bottle—and he will send the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements—simply write me today.

For a free order for a full dollar bottle you must address Dr. Shoop, Box P. 171, Racine, Wis. State which book you want:

Book 1 on Nephritis.
Book 2 on the Heart.
Book 3 on the Kidneys.
Book 4 for Women.
Book 5 for Men.
Book 6 on Rheumatism.

Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. For sale at forty thousand drug stores.

THE FRISCO DEAL ALMOST A CERTAINTY

Will be a Great Thing for the City of Paducah.

Extensions and Absorptions Will Give the Great Trunk Line a Fine Route to the Coast.

OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN HERE

The prospect of the Frisco coming to Paducah has aroused a great deal of interest, and it seems practically settled that Paducah is to have a branch of this big road.

Subsequent dispatches from Nashville say that there does not appear to be any doubt but that the Tennessee Central will be absorbed by the Frisco. When it is, work on the extensions from Hopkinsville to Paducah and from Paducah to Joppa are expected to start immediately.

A number of Frisco officials have been in Paducah lately, although the fact was not generally known at the time, and everything indicates that Paducah is about to land one of the biggest things in years.

In the event the Tennessee Central trade is consummated the road will, in all probability, be extended from Harrison, Tenn., to Knoxville and, as it has been rumored for some time that the Frisco will secure the control of the Seaboard Air Line, the probability is that the connecting link between there and Asheville, N. C., will be built immediately. With the consummation of the negotiations under way for connection between Birmingham and Atlanta and the sea by means of the Atlantic and Birmingham railway, the Frisco will have two direct routes to the Atlantic Seaboard, which has long been the aim and ambition of its management.

The line of the Atlantic and Birmingham railway is already completed from Brunswick, Ga., to Montezuma, Ga., and is under construction the rest of the way to Birmingham. The completion of the line and the control thereof by the Frisco will make Brunswick one of the greatest southern seaports.

During the last few months the Frisco has to a large extent controlled the great grain trade of the western states, bringing the corn and wheat from the states in that part of the country to southern ports and to the southeastern territory, instead of its all going to the trunk lines for shipment abroad, as has heretofore been the case.

NOT BALL PLAYERS

NASHVILLE BUNCH AMATEURS, AND WERE SENT BACK HOME.

Paducah Won by a Score of 15 to 0—Other Baseball News Just Gathered.

The so-called "All Professionals" from Nashville, Tenn., a baseball team in name only, played at Wallace park Sunday afternoon against Manager Harry Lloyd's Indians and the bunch was so "rotten," to use the popular expression of the small crowd of fans who witnessed the performance, that Lloyd sent the team back home, cancelling the games for Monday and Tuesday.

It developed from a baseball view that the Nashville aggregation was nothing more than a bunch of amateurs and played very bad ball. Bates Fisher and a catcher named Smith did the battery work for the visitors and after Fisher was pounded out of the box, another Tennessee boy took his place only to meet with the same fate. South and Land did the work for the Indians and South allowed but two hits.

The game resulted in a victory for the Indians by a score of 15 to 0 and had the Indians not gotten tired of hitting the ball and scoring, would probably have been playing yet.

Lloyd has no games for the fore part of the week and will work his men at practice.

"Red" Bohannon played short stop yesterday and Perry went to first base. Vahrenhorst, because of his hitting, is being worked in the field temporarily. Vahrenhorst is hitting them a "mile high" and will keep the Kitty fiddlers busy this summer.

Dan O'Conner, who played third for Cairo last year has been put out of baseball for some time to come. A few days ago he had his knee cap broken by a ball. * * * Three of the best players that Cairo had signed have not put in their appearance yet and the magnates are beginning to ask themselves the question, "have they jumped?" It is hoped not for they are fast men and heavy hitters. They are under contract with Cairo, however. The men are Vitter, Roland and Schafer. Cramer will be here next week. * * * Rice Pierce is still in the city. Any team wishing a fast shortstop had better "hook on" to Pierce. The local team is full so we cannot use him. A good man for Paducah.—Cairo Citizen.

The Henderson K. I. T. league team and the Evansville club of the Central league played a tie game Friday, the score being 6 to 6.

Outfielder Jeffries of the K. I. T. league and theatrical fame, is the first member of the Memphis Southern league team who has been released since the playing season began. Jeffries will probably go to Greenville. If Jeffries does not go to Greenville, he will undoubtedly go back into the Kitty league.

SUPP. SLATER

Pays Paducah a Brief Visit While On Inspection Tour.

Mr. W. J. Slater, of Louisville, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company for Kentucky, was in the city today, accompanied by his chief operator, Mr. J. D. Holland, on a tour of inspection. They went through the local office and inspected the principal local lines, and report everything in first-class shape, with Manager Allen in charge of one of the neatest and most complete offices in the state.

Supt. Slater went from here to Hopkinsville, but Mr. Holland went on to Memphis to make an inspection.

GEO. ROCK, - 321 Broadway

Louisville Pastor Makes an Able Defense of John D. Rockefeller.

Louisville, Ky., April 15.—A defense of missionary boards in accepting donations from John D. Rockefeller, is the subject of the leading editorial in The Church. The Church is a leaflet edited by the Rev. Dr. Peyton H. Hoge, pastor of Warren Memorial Presbyterian church.

He says in the editorial: "The public loves a target. A few years ago it was Mr. Carnegie. Now it is Mr. Rockefeller, partly because he is probably the richest man in the world, partly because of peculiarities that make him an easy subject for the paragrapher and the cartoonist, but chiefly because of certain hysterical attacks in the magazines, based largely on stock exchange transactions in which, it is claimed, neither he, nor the company he represents, were interested. As an individual, Mr. Rockefeller is known as a devout member of the Baptist church, as the founder of a great university, and more recently as the founder of most important endowments for the investigation of certain diseases—the latter the outcome of a personal bereavement that touched his tender feelings, and prompted him to save others, if possible, the sorrow he had experienced."

Continuing he says: "Is competition or combination the best form for the organization of industry? How big must a corporation grow to become a trust? Are the acts of big corporations intrinsically different from similar acts of little corporations? Where does moral responsibility for corporate acts begin, and where does it end? "The last question is very far-reaching. If we are going to establish a precedent let us see if we can follow it. Let us not stultify ourselves by making one rule for Mr. Rockefeller—in response to a popular hue and cry—and another rule for the rest of mankind. Mr. Carnegie's vast wealth was made by the operation of a tariff that a large portion of the people of this country stigmatize as "robbery." Yet we are taking his libraries as fast as he can give them, and now that "the library business is falling off" we are rejoicing that he is turning his attention to the small colleges. But if we rule out Mr. Carnegie, what are we going to do with the sixty or seventy thousand stockholders of the Steel Corporation? What are you going to do with the vast army of policy holders in the great life insurance companies that are now investing in "industries?" You think it wrong to

HELPED DAIRYMEN.

A Number of Milk Sellers Will Quit the Business.

The recent decision in the police court of Judge Sanders has been a great help to the bona fide dairymen of the county. Judge Sanders held that every person who sold milk and butter inside the city limits, whether a dairyman or not, must pay the regular license. A number of men had been in the habit, it is said, of going about the county like hucksters, buying up all the milk and butter they could get hold of, bringing it to town and selling it cheaper than the regular dairymen could sell it. The business was proving quite profitable, as the dealers were at no expense to maintain dairies and feed cows, but simply bought from various farmers who had more milk and butter than they could use, and brought it to the city once or twice a week. The police are now looking for all of them and will require them to take out a license if they have been selling since the first of the year, or get a warrant for them. Some are said to have already quit business, but this will not save them from having to pay a license for the time they were in business.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquezone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquezone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does kill germs. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do. This offer itself should convince you that Liquezone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquezone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquezone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquezone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you.

Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

HOSPITAL BOARD

WILL FIRST FURNISH THE NEW CITY HOSPITAL.

Later Will Choose a Superintendent—May Hold Meeting This Afternoon.

Although the hospital board has full and complete control of River-side hospital the matter of selecting a superintendent and matron has not been considered, the board applying its efforts towards other ends—first that of furnishing the institution.

There are a number of applicants in for the positions and most of them are held by the city clerk, having been filed with the mayor who presented them to the board. The council will tonight probably order the clerk to turn over all applications to the board and when the proper time comes the board will take them up for consideration.

"We will consider the eligibility of the applicants first of all," a board member stated this morning. "We do not want the hospital in the hands of some one not eligible to the position and I understand a number of those who have filed applications are not eligible. There are plenty of men and women in Paducah who are eligible, however, and it will be no trouble to fill the positions from residents of Paducah and not have to send outside."

A meeting of the board may be held this afternoon sometime to take up the matter of furnishing the new hospital which is a rather difficult question to decide, as it cannot be told how much money will be needed until it is definitely decided how many wards are to be fitted out by citizens at their own expense.

There are at present six wards that will be fitted out in this way.

ELEVATOR REPORT.

Board of Works Will Submit Result of Investigation Tonight.

The board of public works now has ready its report on the city hall elevator, which matter was submitted to it sometime ago by both legislative boards.

The report of the board is that it has ascertained that the elevator will cost between $1,500 and $2,000, and that this will not include the cost of electric current and someone to run the elevator, which it is believed will cost at least a dollar a day more the year around.

The board does not make any recommendation, as it was asked to make none, but simply reports the probable cost of an elevator. The report will be read to the council this evening.

Small Blaze, Little Damage.

The No. 1 fire department was called to 320 Monroe street, to the residence of Mrs. Bush, Sunday at noon. A small blaze had started in the roof from a spark but had gained slight headway when the fire men arrived. Little damage was done by the conflagration.

WHAT IS "CRIME"? TO BE PASSED ON

By the Federal Court in a Short Time at Louisville.

Peonage Cases in Paducah Will Not Be Taken Up Until Judge Evans Decides.

STATUS OF LOUISVILLE CASES

It has been definitely decided, it is understood, not to take up the peonage cases in Paducah at the present term of federal court, as Judge Evans has rendered no opinion in the Louisville cases, and until he does it is not deemed advisable to bring indictments here. If Judge Evans should decide that it is a violation of the federal constitution to work prisoners for unpaid fines, in November the indictments may be brought here as well as now.

District Attorney Hill said today that he could not say whether the peonage cases would be taken up here or not, but Assistant Attorney Thatcher stated that in his opinion the cases would not be taken up at this term of court, which is probably correct.

The peonage cases at Louisville, as predicted in The Sun several days ago, have now resolved themselves into the construction of the meaning of "crime" in the thirteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

The city of Louisville, in view of the agitation, has now stopped working prisoners when they fail to execute a bond for their good behavior, but still works them for fines.

The Courier-Journal says of the cases:

The so-called peonage cases of Jerry Cook and Bob Price, colored, which came up yesterday for argument on habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Walter Evans in the federal district court, have now resolved themselves into the exact definition of the term "crime," as used in the Thirteenth amendment of the Federal Constitution and as contradistinguished from offenses generally termed misdemeanors.

Judge Evans took the cases under advisement and will probably not hand down his opinion until after holding of court at Paducah and Owensboro.

District Attorney R. D. Hill in his argument contended for two positions:

No right existed to confine one in the workhouse in default of a fine imposed as a penalty for an offense "not of sufficient dye" to be called a crime.

No right exists to work a prisoner in the workhouse when confined there for failure to execute a bond for good behavior or to keep the peace.

City Attorney A. E. Richards in his answer to the writs conceded District Attorney Hill's second contention, but took issue on the first. He admitted that the city had recognized the involuntary servitude as illegal and that it had been abrogated by the board of public safety.

Mr. Richards also said that, in accordance with his advice, the board of public safety had abrogated the infliction of hard labor in default of bonds to keep the peace, and had also abandoned the use of striped uniforms.

The question then remains: "What offenses are of 'sufficient dye' to be called a 'crime'?" The supreme court recently held in an oleomargarine case, where the accused was tried, not by a jury, and fined $50, that this character of offense was not a "crime."

An interesting consequence to the ultimate decision in the case is that if the supreme court should limit the term "crime" so as to include certain offenses now known as "misdemeanors," communities would be subjected to heavy expenses for the maintenance of prisoners held for fines, but who could not, as now, be subjected to hard labor, thereby making some adequate return for their keep.

HEAVY FROST FELL OVER THE COUNTY

Much Damage is Reported to Fruit and Vegetables.

The Temperature in the City Went to 34—Difference of Opinion as to Damage.

WAS A FROST SATURDAY, ALSO.

There was a heavy frost last night—a "killing" frost, according to the gardeners.

There seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether or not there was frost Saturday night, but the preponderance of opinion among those who come to market is that there was frost then, too.

Others claim that the wind prevented frost Saturday night.

There was considerable damage done in this section by last night's frost, according to most of the gardeners and farmers in town this morning.

Fortunately it was not as bad as it might have been, as they were all on their guard because of the cool weather of the past several days, and had everything possible to cover, well protected.

Most of the damage was done to beans, tomatoes and strawberries.

It is claimed by many, however, that the peaches and plums are both killed, and possibly other things.

The farmer is naturally pessimistic, however, and the damage may not be so bad as he imagines. Some of the gardeners today said that while the frost was a heavy "black" frost most of the truck had been covered and therefore escaped.

Weather Observer Bornemann recorded 34 degrees as the lowest temperature here last night. 38 degrees sometimes makes frost.

It is the opinion of Observer Bornemann that some damage was no doubt done by the frost, especially in exposed places, where it was heaviest.

He does not think it possible at present, however, to determine what was damaged and what was not. The general opinion seems to be, however, that the damage is not as great as some of the estimates.

Mr. N. B. Tapscott, of the Blandville section, telephoned to the Sun this morning that there was a "slight freeze, as well as a heavy frost, in his section, and that great damage seems to have been done to the fruit trees and strawberries. Mr. Tapscott is one of the largest berry raisers in the county.

FIRST LECTURES.

In Kentucky Given by Rev. Crispin in Paducah Yesterday.

The state prohibition executive committee has employed Rev. Wm. Frost Crispin of Akron, O., to tour this state and speak for temperance and prohibition. He held his initial meeting in the Broadway M. E. church at 3 p. m. yesterday and at night he spoke in the Christian church. His audiences, though not large, were of fair size and received Mr. Crispin's message very kindly and he certainly made a good impression for he does not come in any partisan spirit.

Mr. Crispin said it was his first introduction to a Kentucky audience and that while he was a northerner by birth and education, his patriotism was not hemmed in by state lines. But he loved his fellow men and had come into the state to do good and not harm.

While Mr. Crispin favors the work of the local optionists and the anti-saloon league as a means of agitation and education, yet he says there are no cures for the evil and the cure can never come until some party is placed in power in state and nation which will dismantle the distillery and brewery and stop all importation for beverage purposes.

UNSIGHTLY POSTS.

Board of Works Thinking of Beginning War Against Them at Once.

The board of public works has ordered sign posts, water and gas surface boxes, and hitching posts removed from sidewalks, and is now thinking of having every awning post taken from the pavements, especially in the business part of the city.

"There are hundreds and hundreds of these awning posts in the city," said a member today, "and we think they ought to be taken down. Of course we don't want to interfere with anyone's business any more than we can help, but we have simply sized it up this way: That the good to the general public of taking down all awning and sign posts would be greater than the good to some private citizen of letting them remain, so we shall probably order them all down."

A man who is unable to write his name never has to listen to the reading of his silly letters in a breach of promise suit.

ANOTHER FLOP

CITY SOLICITOR HAS CHANGED HIS MIND SINCE SATURDAY.

Bids For Third Street to Be Advertised For by the City at Once Now.

City Solicitor Ed. Pryor has again changed his mind about the Third street improvement, according to reports. Saturday, after deciding that the city did not have to pay for certain parts of street reconstruction around car tracks, he decided that inasmuch as the street car company had filed suit to have the law construed, work had better stop.

The city engineer was ordered to cease changing his plans for Third street, which had been ordered drawn without making provision for the things wanted by the street car company and was stopped. It was announced that the Third street improvement would wait indefinitely.

Today it was learned that the Solicitor had changed his mind again, and recommended that the Third street work be pushed instead of abandoned.

As a result there was something doing in the city engineer's office. The plans were hauled out again and were being completed when a reporter called, and City Engineer Washington stated that the specifications would be ready for the printer in a day or two, and that bids would be asked for, and opened on April 26th, the date originally intended.

As the street car company is to secure a restraining order against the city, however, this change of opinion by the solicitor and hurry in the engineer's office will not amount to anything, as the work will be stopped no matter how many times the solicitor changes his mind.

Lottie Hobbs, colored, aged seven years, of the North Side, died yesterday from typhoid fever and her death was reported to Coroner Crow. The latter ascertained that death was due to natural causes, however, and no inquest was held.

Heart Weakness.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has made many hearts well after they have been pronounced hopeless. It has completely cured thousands, and will almost invariably cure or benefit every case of heart disease.

Short breath, pain around heart, palpitation, fluttering, dizzy, fainting and smothering spells should not be neglected. Take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and see how quick you will be relieved.

It cannot make a new heart, but will restore a sick one by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles, relieving the unnatural strain, and restoring its vitality.

"I had a very bad case of heart trouble. For six months I could not work. Last July I was plowing corn and feeling bad all day; in the afternoon in plowing one row I had to lay down, or fall down, three times. My heart throbbed as though it would burst through, and I had difficulty in getting my breath. I purchased a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and before I had used half of it I could lay down and sleep all night. Previously I had to get up from five to ten times a night. I have taken several bottles, and my heart is as regular as clock work. I feel like a new man, and can work considerably for an old man, 84 years old."

CARS DERAILED.

Fifteen Freight Off the Tracks Greatly Delay Traffic For Short Time.

All fast passenger trains were delayed over the I. C. between Memphis and Louisville this morning by an accident between Pryorsburg and Fulton, on the Tennessee division of the I. C.

An extra freight was derailed, fifteen cars leaving the tracks, but no one was reported hurt. The accident happened before the fast passenger train, No. 104, from Memphis to Louisville, passed and the train had to be derailed via. Cairo. It was due at 1:45, but did not arrive until 6:35.

Train No. 103, from Louisville to Memphis, due at 3:30 was derailed via. Cairo and lost several hours. The morning accommodation train, No. 122, from Fulton to Louisville, and the south-bound local were delayed over an hour and a half. The wrecker from Fulton was called out to work the wreck.

Contractor K. D. Suell has given bond and returned from Paris, Tenn., where he was held in the sum of $1,000 for the alleged abduction of his step-niece, Miss Della Woodall, assistant postmistress at Mansfield, Tenn. He will return to answer the charge in June.

To Complete Arrangements.
The committee on arrangements of the Mangum and Ingleside lodges, I. O. O. F., will meet tonight for the purpose of completing arrangements for running a big excursion over the I. C. to Marion, Ill., on April 26th, to attend the big interstate meeting.

It has been settled that a band will be taken along to compete for a prize. The Odd Fellows last year were handicapped by bad weather, a cold drizzling rain falling when the train started, but this year hope for pretty weather, which will bring out many excursionists.

poena for the county judge?

These are questions that the people are asking, and it is up to some one to explain.

The investigation of county officials in McCracken is a thing that everyone is fully conversant with by now. The state inspector said in his report to the governor of one office,
that those in charge were either "dishonest or thoroughly incompetent."

It certainly seems that this is cause enough for an investigation by the grand jury, no matter who wants one or who doesn't.

The county judge was one of the principal factors in these investigations, and he has made public statements which leave him no choice in the matter of going before the grand jury and telling what he may know,
in order that whoever is concerned may be required to answer for whatever has been done, or may be exonerated before the people.

The grand jury is for the purpose of investigating matters that should be investigated, and should do its work without fear or favor. The foreman of the grand jury has authority,
but he is not authorized or expected to use it either to persecute or protect anyone. He is expected to "put aside personal feelings, whether they be of friendship or enmity and do what is best for the community, and if he fails or refuses to walk in the straight and narrow path, he should be excused from further service and someone put in his place who will discharge the duties in the proper way.

In the present case the action of the county judge in failing to go before the grand jury and the action of the foreman of the jury in failing to require him to go before the jury,
are alike such as to call forth explanations.

A grand jury will often go to the ends of the earth, figuratively speaking, to get witnesses. In some petty case involving a minor infraction of the law, but in a matter like this,
in which the entire county and several thousand taxpayers are interested, it is seemingly sadly indifferent.

Senator Blackburn's local organ insists that Judge Paynter should resign his judgeship for the reason that he may use some of the time for which the state is paying him to advance his own interests. Right here at home, however, it is a notorious fact that several county officials have for months been wasting the people's time running for office. They sprinted around the county for weeks and months, leaving their duties to be looked after by others, or not at all,

being away from their offices for days at a time. No kick has ever been raised by Senator Blackburn's local organ to this, yet the people are a great deal more interested in it, and more vitally affected by it,
than by the time an appellate judge
may use at Frankfort in putting up his fences. Here is where the people pay their taxes, and here is where most of the money paid for taxes is spent. It would be a little more consistent for the senator's local organ to stop star gazing and pay a little attention to what is going on right under its nose.

A Louisville circuit judge has just handed down a sensible decision in a game law case. It has long foolishly been held by some Kentucky courts that game killed in another state cannot be brought into Kentucky during the closed season.
Such an idea is absurd. The law says that possession of game during the closed season is prima facie evidence that the law has been violated, but this is simply throwing the burden of proof on the possessor, who must then show where he obtained it. As the Louisville judge says, Kentucky could not, if it desired, protect the game in other states, and property
the lawful possession of which was obtained in another state, cannot be considered held contrary to law in this state. Under this decision a hunter has a right to kill quail in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee or any other state if the game law is not in force there, and to bring them to this state. They are his property, he came into lawful possession of them, and cannot be deprived of them or punished for merely having them.

The announcement that the board of health is better to start an active campaign for better sanitation is comforting, and it is to be hoped it will prove a success. It will accomplish a great deal if it is prosecuted properly, and there is no reason it should not be if the members of the board of health continue to take the interest they are now showing. They have a hard proposition to go up against,
but perseverance will tell in the long run.

RHODES-BURFORD CO.

EXPANSION IN BUSINESS CALLS
FOR MORE STORE ROOM.They Have Leased the Noble Stores
at Fourth and Jefferson, and Will Have More Room.

The Rhodes-Burford company has leased the two store rooms belonging to E. P. Noble on Jefferson street near Fourth formerly occupied by Noble, Overby & Co. These stores have a frontage on Jefferson of 42 feet and run back 165 and are three stories high, and will make excellent storage rooms for reserve and duplicate stocks, for which purpose they will be used.

The growth and prosperity of the Rhodes-Burford Co. is a fitting tribute to energetic, enthusiastic and capable management, as well as good evidence of what a growing, good town Paducah is.

Coming here but five years ago the firm opened up in one room of the Rook stores on South Third, and soon had to take the other to accommodate their rapidly growing business. Two years ago they moved into the handsome store they now occupy on North Fourth, one of the prettiest stores to be found anywhere.
They have already outgrown this,
however, and additional space was a necessity. With the Noble stores for warehouses, they will have altogether 50,000 feet of floor-space.

Mr. Harry Rhodes, the genial manager of the local branch of this firm of over seventeen hustling stores, is certainly to be complimented and congratulated on the business he has built in Paducah. A great believer in printers' ink, he has made his store known over the major portion of West Kentucky and Southern Illinois. A great believer in Paducah and its future, he has allied himself with every movement for its improvement and growth and made for himself the reputation of being one of the foremost of that younger branch of local business men to which the city owes so much for its rapid growth in every respect the past few years.

PALM SUNDAY

WAS APPROPRIATELY CELEBRA-TED IN PADUCAH YESTER-DAY.Owensboro Rabbi Here—Tenth Street
Revival is Still in Progress.

Yesterday was Palm Sunday, the first day of Holy week, which ends with Easter Sunday, April 23, and was celebrated with special sermons and music by many of the local churches.

Wednesday in Holy week is another notable day in the Catholic calendar. The office of Tenebrae is celebrated.

Maundy Thursday, or Holy Thursday, is a feast in memory of the Lord's supper, when he instituted the Holy Eucharist and washed his disciples' feet.

On Good Friday the services in the churches are of the same solemn character as on the preceding day.
At Rome, in the afternoon, the last miserere is chanted in the Sistine chapel, after which the pope, cardinals and other clergy proceed through a covered passage to St. Peter's in order to venerate the true cross, the lance and other relics which are shown from the balcony above the statue of St. Veronica.

Holy Saturday is the day before Easter Sunday. On this day the new fire, the paschal candle and the baptismal font are blessed in all the churches.

At the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church yesterday the service and music were very beautiful and appropriate to Palm Sunday. "Palms" and "The Holy City" were rendered at the ten o'clock mass. Palm branches in commemoration of the day were distributed to the congregation.

Special mass at 7:30 a. m. will be held at this church on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week,
and evening services on Wednesday,
Thursday and Friday.

The German Lutheran church held its confirmation service yesterday morning, a class of eleven being confirmed with the beautiful ceremony.
The church was attractively decorated with palms, and especial music was rendered. At night the Rev. A.
L. Hiten preached on the theme,
"Behold Thy King Cometh," in commemoration of Palm Sunday. Miss Maurer sang the evening solo.

The morning service at the German Evangelical church yesterday was an examination of the class of ten that will receive the rites of confirmation at Easter. The evening service was in celebration of Palm Sunday. Rev.
Wm. Bourquin preaching on that theme. The music was especially fine. The offertory was rendered by Mrs. Henry Harmeling.

The morning service at Broadway Methodist church yesterday was held especially for the Sunday school. The music was in charge of the Sunday school choir under the leadership of Miss Virginia Newell. Rev. T. J.
Newell's sermon was on the power and work of a little child. At night
General Secretary Blake Godfrey of the Y. M. C. A. filled the pulpit, and made a strong, straight-from-the-shoulder practical talk that is characteristic of Mr. Godfrey's vivid personality. Mrs. Taylor Fisher sang the offertory at night.

Rabbi Kratowitz, of Owensboro, lectured at Temple Israel yesterday
to a large congregation.

He was invited to preach or lecture on trial and the congregation seemed well pleased with the lecture.
He is a brilliant young rabbi and has risen wonderfully since he has been in the pulpit.

Rabbi Raisen, of Mississippi, who preached several weeks ago and Rabbi Kratowitz are the only ones who have been here, and Sunday a week
the congregation will meet and decide which to call.

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Biederwolf, of Indiana, who are warmly remembered by the many friends they made here during a union meeting held at the Broadway Methodist church several years ago, were in Portland, Ore., this month with the evangelistic campaign party under Dr. Wilbur Chapman that has been, and is doing,
such a wonderful revival work on the Pacific coast. A recent number of the Oregon Journal contains pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Biederwolf and also, of Mr. Harry Maxwell, the singer, who was with them here, and pays a high tribute to them. Mrs.
Maxwell is also with her husband and assists in the singing. Of Mrs.
Biederwolf the paper says especially,
in commenting on the women of the party as "the silent working force of the great crusade."

"Mrs. Biederwolf, who has frequently assisted her husband as leader for women's meetings and in personal work at the close of revival services, is young and of most attractive personality. She has been a great traveler, having visited Egypt,
the Holy Land and Europe with Mr.
Biederwolf while he was completing his studies. For about a year she

of the winter by living much out of

Rev. J. T. M. Knox, pastor of the Cairo Presbyterian church, has announced that he intends to resign.
A congregational meeting will be held the 21th of this month asking the Presbytery to sever his pastoral relations.

The revival which has been in progress for a week at the Tenth street Christian church is meeting with great interest and will be continued through the coming week. Rev. B.
W. Bass preached yesterday to large congregations and the sermons were very fine. There were two additions to the church yesterday.

Rev. David C. Wright, of Grace Episcopal church, preached on "Palm Sunday" yesterday morning, and the music was appropriate to the day.
The services of the church for Holy week will be as follow: Monday,

Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30 p.

MASON'S FUND

Is Making Excellent Progress, According to Reports.

The movement to raise $30,000
for a modern building at the Old Mason's Home, near Shelbyville, is making excellent progress according to reports received by a committee of the grand lodge at Louisville.

The site of the home consists of 162 acres, situated about one mile from Shelbyville. The old farmhouse with accommodations for sixteen is now used as a home.

The committee has recently sent letters to all the lodges in the state
asking for contributions to the fund, and the replies so far received are gratifying.

DRUG HABITS

Easily Formed But Hard to Break.

A man down in old Virginia tells of his experience which points a simple and effective way out. He says:

"About 15 years ago my wife, through using coffee and laudanum, for relief of neuralgia, became addicted to the habits, continuing until she had about destroyed stomach, nerves and mind. This brought on periods of dementia lasting from one to two weeks, growing steadily worse until the 3d of August last year our family physician called in consultation another doctor, who had been resident physician at our State Insane Asylum.

"They decided the only hope was to place her in a sanitarium, otherwise she would be hopelessly insane before the year was out. On investigation we found the charges for such a patient beyond our means so it was necessary to face the worst at home.

"Upon the advice of a friend she stopped the use of coffee, of which she was very fond, and began the use of Postum Food Coffee as a remedy for the constipation which accompanied the attacks. The result was more than we expected. It not only relieved the constipation greatly but aided her to break the laudanum habit for when she found herself possessed of her desire to 'take something' a cup of strong Postum would allay the desire and soothe and refresh her.

"This led to the regular use of Postum, and Grape Nuts that also seemed to nourish and strengthen her overwrought nerves, she steadily got better and better and today, instead of being in the insane asylum she is still with us in her own home, sounder in mind and body than for several years past. The attacks of dementia have steadily grown milder and less frequent until now we have every reason to believe that she will soon be fully restored—sound in mind and body.

"I know this has been accomplished entirely by the aid of Postum and Grape Nuts, for not since that consultation over a year ago has she taken a particle of medicine of any sort.

"In writing this my greatest desire is to bring the use of your products to the notice of some other unfortunate trembling upon the brink of that most terrible of all calamities, insanity, and I thoroughly believe and know that leaving off coffee and other drugs and taking good food and drink is the surest means by which it can be averted. I give the name of our family physician, who can vouch for the truth of what I have written. You are at liberty to furnish name and address to anyone really interested." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich.

And Wife Sues for $25,000 Damages As a Result.

Cincinnati, O., April 17.—Because her husband's body was cremated, Mrs. Ella R. Campbell of Chicago today sued her father-in-law, Dr. John R. Campbell, for $25,000 damages.

Dr. Campbell, who is proprietor of a sanitarium here, is alleged to have "decreased the body of his son unlawfully, wilfully and without authority from her," by having it burned, "thus depriving her of the body and of the privileges of giving it proper burial."

As a result, Mrs. Campbell, whose husband was James Campbell, alleges she has "suffered much pain and mental anguish."

According to reports Wire Inspector Gano is making good headway in his local inspections, and is finding fewer changes necessary than was anticipated.

John Allen, alias "Black Cat," was arrested today for assaulting Capt. Carroll, of the I. N. Hook. Capt. Carroll was not hurt.

MRS. BROCKWELL

Continues to Take Thinks Easy—Motion For New Trial About Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Brockwell, the mother who murdered her three little children by giving them morphine, seems to be taking life easy at the county jail.

She occupies the front cell upstairs, in the woman's department, and has a good view of the street.

The attorneys who will make a fight for her on the plea of insanity, have not filed a motion for a new trial but will do so before the sheriff leaves for Eddyville with the other prisoners. The court will go into session again Wednesday for the purpose of trying two negro defendants, and Sheriff Potter will not leave for the penitentiary until after they are tried.

ALSO A BIGAMIST

JIM HOLLOWAY HAD A FAMILY IN CHRISTIAN COUNTY.

Claims His Marriage a Quarter of a Century Ago Had Expired By Limitation.

The case of Jim Holloway, the old darkey arrested here a few days ago for killing Andrew Bradshaw in Christian county 25 years ago, is attracting a great deal of attention in Hopkinsville, and it has been learned since Holloway was taken back, that he will have to answer a charge of bigamy as well as murder, as he left a wife when he killed Bradshaw and escaped and has a wife in this county.

Holloway seems to be quite fertile in resources, and explained his marriage here by saying that his other marriage "expired by limitation."

He did the shooting when he killed Bradshaw with a 32-calibre pistol, and it made such a small hole that the wound could hardly be found after Bradshaw died. He said after being shot that he was hurt, but an election was on, there was a great deal of excitement, and no one believed him. He went home, laid down and three days later was dead. He was a "bully" and no one seemed to regret his death.

Holloway was known here as William Houston. He still says the shooting was an accident. One of the witnesses to the shooting was Claude Clark, now circuit clerk of Christian county, who was then a boy nine years old.

INJURIES FATAL.

Galen Brown Died Saturday After a Lingering Illness.

Galen Brown, aged 15, died Saturday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock from an accidental wound in the shoulder received by the discharge of a Robert rifle picked up by Pettit Powell, a companion, on the Randle place on the Cairo road March 25. The direct cause of death was blood poisoning and gangrene. The little fellow was not thought to be seriously hurt at first, but it later developed that the bullet severed a small artery and he had suffered internal hemorrhage. He was son of Mr. Ezekiel Brown, and leaves a father and one sister aged 7.

The deceased was in the freshman class of the High school, and was very popular with his schoolmates and others who knew him.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence, 632 Kentucky avenue, services by Rev. Cheek, of the First Baptist church, burial at Oak Grove.

A Dandy for Burns.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns.' Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

Our business men are complaining of the exorbitant freight rates that they are forced to pay by the I. C. railroad. This our merchants claim is an outrage.—Mayfield Messenger.

Cures Coughs and Colds.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake street, Topeka, Kan., says: "Of all cough remedies Ballard's Horehound Syrup is my favorite; it has done and will do all that is claimed for it—to speedily cure all coughs and colds—and it is so sweet and pleasant to the taste." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

The large towboat Cyclone, owned by the Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Coke company, and valued at $40,000, was burned to the water's edge on the Monongahela river, near McKeesport, Pa., Saturday. The fire started in the pilot-house from a small coal stove, and the blaze spread so quickly that the crew was compelled to make a hurried escape to the shore. No one was injured as far as can be ascertained.

The Charleston arrived from Tennessee river and went to Joppa to unload.

The City of Savannah passed up from St. Louis for Tennessee river at 7 p. m. yesterday.

The Reese Lee, from Memphis for Cincinnati, passed up at 8 last night.

The Peters Lee is due tomorrow from Cincinnati for Memphis.

The Alice Brown with tow passed up yesterday from New Orleans for Pittsburgh. She brought up the J. N. Harbin, which was dropped off here for repairs.

The boat will be used during the low water operations. It must have cylinders 14 inches in diameter, with a five-foot stroke.

The Joe B. Williams and tow are on the way up from New Orleans.

Capt. S. S. Brown, the Pittsburgh coal man, has been elected a life member of the Cincinnati Lodge of Elks. He has been a member of the Cincinnati branch for a quarter of a century. The honor was conferred on him for his work in behalf of the order at large.

MORE APPLY

For Positions as Principals in the Schools Here.

Supt. C. M. Leib, of the city schools, and President Harry F. Williamson, of the board of education, are still receiving applications for principalships in the schools and consider this a good proof of the popularity and growing strength of the schools inasmuch as several excellent and well-known educators are applying for positions.

There are three positions to fill and rather than have the applicant come and not like the school, it was decided to invite them here and elect after the position had been investigated by the applicants. It is not known when the election will be held but the board will probably act at the next meeting and settle the matter.

Caldwell Street Next.

The street roller is still being used in rolling Tennessee street, and when this thoroughfare is complete, will be taken to Caldwell street and the last named be torn up and re-rolled all the way to the I. C. depot. The roller is reported to be doing fine work.

We all know what causes it, but how to remove it is a mystery. I tried lots of medicine and different schemes, but until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at DuBois, Kolb & Co's. drug store and took a course of the treatment I met with very indifferent success. "That is good speaking," he gurgled. "Then help me and my friend to escape. Compel your chief to leave the Island. Kill him! Plot against him! I will promise you freedom and plenty of ruses. Do this, and I swear to you I will come in a ship and take you away. The miss sahib's father is powerful. He has great influence with the Indian government."

Taung S'All was evidently bewildered and annoyed by this passionate appeal which he did not understand. He demanded an explanation, and the ready-witted native was obliged to invent some plausible excuse. Yet when he raised his face to Jenks there was the look of a hunted animal in his eyes. "Sahib," he said, endeavoring to conceal his agitation, "I am one among many. A word from me, and they would cut my throat. If I were with you there on the rock I would die with you, for I was in the Kumon regiment when the trouble befell me. It is of no avail to bargain with a tiger, sahib. I suppose you will not give up the miss sahib. Pretend to argue with me. I will help in any way possible."

Jenks' heart bounded when this unlooked-for offer reached his ears. The unfortunate Mohammedan was evidently eager to get away from the perilous gang into whose power he had fallen. But the chief was impatient, if not suspicious, of these long speeches. Angrily holding forth a rifle, the sailor shouted:

"Tell Taung S'All that I will stay him and all his men tomorrow's sun rises. He knows something of my power, but not all. Tonight at the twelfth hour you will find a rope hanging from the rock. Tie thereto a vessel of water. Fall not in this. I will not forget your services. I am Anstruther Sahib of the Belgium regiment."

The native translated his words into a fierce defiance of Taung S'All and his Dyaks. The chief glanced at Jenks and Iris with an ominous smile. He muttered something.

"Then, sahib, there is nothing more to be said. Beware of the trees on your right. They can send silent death even to the place where you stand. And I will not fail you tonight, on my life," cried the interpreter.

"I believe you. Go! But inform your chief that once you have disappeared round the rock whence you came I will talk to him only with a rifle."

Taung S'All seemed to comprehend the Englishman's emphatic motions. Waving his hand defiantly, the Dyak turned, and, with one parting glance of mute assurance, the Indian followed him.

Iris touched his arm and he told her all that had taken place. Iris became very downcast when she grasped the exact state of affairs. She was almost certain when the Dyaks proposed a parley that reasonable terms would result. It horrified her beyond measure to find that she was the rock on which negotiations were wrecked. Hope died within her. The bitterness of death was in her breast.

"What an unhappy influence I have had on your existence!" she exclaimed. "If it were not for me this trouble at least would be spared you. Because I am here you are condemned. Again, because I stopped you from shooting that wretched chief and his companions they are now demanding your life as a forfeit. It is all my fault. I can not bear it."

She was on the verge of tears. The strain had become too great for her. After indulging in a wild dream of freedom, to be told that they must again endure the irksome confinement of the active suffering, the slow horror of a siege in that rocky prison, almost distracted her.

Jenks was very stern and curt in his reply.

"We must make the best of a bad business," he said. "If we are in a tight place the Dyaks are not much better off, and eighteen of their number are dead or wounded. You forget too, that Providence has sent us a most useful ally in the Mohammedan. When all is said and done, things might be far worse than they are."

Never before had his tone been so cold, his manner so abrupt, not even in the old days when he purposely endeavored to make her dislike him.

She walked along the ledge and timidly bent over him.

"Forgive me!" she whispered. "I did forget for the moment not only the goodness of Providence, but also your self-sacrificing devotion. I am only a woman, and I don't want to die yet, but I will not live unless you, too, are saved."

Once already that day she had expressed this thought in other words. Was some shadowy design flitting through her brain? Suppose they were faced with the alternatives of dying from thirst or yielding to the Dyaks. Was there another way out? Jenks shivered, though the rock was scorching him. He must divert her mind from this dreadful brooding.

"The fact is," he said, with a feeble attempt at cheerfulness, "we are both hungry and consequently grumpy. Now, suppose you prepare lunch. We will feel ever so much better after we have eaten."

The girl choked back her emotion and sadly essayed the task of providing a meal which was hateful to her. A few tears fell now and made little furrows down her soiled cheeks. But they were helpful tears, tears of resignation, not of despair. Although the "destruction that wasteth at noonday" was trying her sorely, she again felt strong and sustained.

She even smiled on detecting an involuntary effort to clear her stained face. She was about to carry a biscuit and some tinned meat to the sailor when a sharp exclamation from him caused her to hasten to his side.

The Dyaks had broken cover. Running in scattered sections across the sands, they were risking such loss as the defenders might be able to inflict upon them during a brief race to the shelter and food to be obtained in the other part of the island.

Jenks did not fire at the scurrying gang. He was waiting for one man, Taung S'All. But that redoubtable person, having probably suggested this dash for liberty, had fully realized the enviable share of attention he would attract during the passage. He therefore discarded his vivid attire and by borrowing odd garments made himself sufficiently like unto the remainder of his crew to deceive the sailor until the rush of men was over. Among them ran the Mohammedan, who did not look up the valley, but waved his hand.

When all had quieted down again Jenks understood how he had been fooled. He laughed so heartily that Iris, not knowing either the cause of his merriment or the reason of his unlooked-for clemency to the flying foe, feared the sun had affected him.

He at once quitted the post occupied during so protracted a vigil.

"Now," he cried, "we can eat in peace. I have stripped the chief of his finery. His men can twist him on being forced to shed his gorgeous plumage in order to save his life. Anyhow, they will leave us in peace until night falls, so we must make the best of a hot afternoon."

But he was mistaken. A greater danger than any yet experienced now threatened them, for Taung S'All, furious and unrelenting, resolved that if he could not obtain the girl he would slay the pair of them, and he had terrible weapons in his possession.

CHAPTER XIII.

RESIDENTS in tropical countries know that the heat is greatest, or certainly least bearable, between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the conclusion of a not very luscious repast Jenks suggested that they should rig up the tarpaulin in such wise as to gain protection from the sun and yet enable him to cast a watchful eye over the valley. Iris helped to raise the great canvas sheet on the supports he had prepared. Once shut off from the scorching rays, the hot breeze then springing into fitful existence cooled their blistered but perspiring skin and made life somewhat tolerable.

Still adhering to his policy of combatting the first enervating attacks of thirst, the sailor sanctioned the consumption of the remaining water. As a last desperate expedient to be resorted to only in case of sheer necessity, he uncorked a bottle of champagne and filled the tin cup. The sparkling wine, with its volume of creamy foam, looked so tempting that Iris would then and there have risked its potency were she not promptly withheld.

Jenks explained to her that when the wine became quite flat and insipid they might use it to moisten their parched lips. Even so, in their present superheated state, the liquor was unquestionably dangerous, but he hoped it

ITCHING ECZEMA

In July, 1883, I began to break out with Eczema on my head, legs and arms, and began treatment with local doctors, but did not get much relief. They said the disease had become chronic. I then quit them and tried various ointments and soaps for another two years, but as soon as cold weather came I was as bad off as ever, so I finally decided to let medicine alone, and for twelve or thirteen years did nothing towards curing the Eczema, except bathing. This seemed to do about as much good as anything I had tried.

During the time I lost about one-half of my hair. I began S. S. S. doubtful of a cure, because the disease had run so long, but soon discovered your medicine was doing me good, and continued to take it. I used seven bottles, when I was completely cured, not having a single spot on my body, which before was almost completely covered.

The head, feet and hands are usually the parts affected, though the disease appears on other parts of the body. While external applications allay the itching and burning temporarily, it is the acids thrown off by the blood that cause the irritation and eruptions upon the skin. The acids must be neutralized and the system cleansed of all humors and poisons before the cure is permanent.

would not harm them if taken in minute quantities.

Accustomed now to implicitly accept his advice, she fought and steadily conquered the craving within her. Oddly enough, the "thawing" of their scorched bodies beneath the tarpaulin brought a certain degree of relief. They were supremely uncomfortable, but that was as naught compared with the relaxation from the torments previously borne.

For a long time—the best part of an hour, perhaps—they remained silent.

The sailor was reviewing the pros and cons of their precarious condition. It would, of course, be a matter of supreme importance were the Indian to be faithful to his promise. Here the prospect was decidedly hopeful.

The man was an old soldier, and the ex-officer of native cavalry knew how enduring was the attachment of this poor convict to home and military service. Probably at that moment the Mohammedan was praying to the prophet and his two nephews to aid him in rescuing the sahib and the woman whom the sahib held so dear, for the all-wise and all-powerful Indian government is very merciful to offending natives who thus condone their former crimes.

But, however willing he might be, what could one man do among so many? The Dyaks were hostile to him in race and creed, and assuredly infuriated against the foreign devil who had killed or wounded in round numbers one-fifth of their total force. Very likely the hapless Mussulman would lose his life that night in attempting to bring water to the foot of the rock.

Even if the man succeeded in eluding the vigilance of his present associates, where was the water to come from? There was none on the island save that in the well. In all likelihood the Dyaks had a store in the remaining sampans, but the native ally of the beleaguered pair would have a task of exceeding difficulty in obtaining one of the jars or skins containing it.

Again, granting all things went well that night, what would be the final outcome of the struggle? How long could Iris withstand the exposure, the strain, the heartbreaking misery of the rock?

He shook restlessly, not aware that the girl's sorrowful glance, luminous with love and pain, was fixed upon him. Summarily dismissing these grisly phantoms of the mind, he asked himself what the Mohammedan exactly meant by warning him against the trees on the right and the "silent death" that might come from them. He was about to crawl forth to the lip of the rock and investigate matters in that locality when Iris, who also was busy with her thoughts, restrained him.

"Wait a little while," she said. "None of the Dyaks will venture into the open until night falls. And I have something to say to you."

There was a quiet solemnity in her voice that Jenks had never heard before. It chilled him. His heart acknowledged a quick sense of evil omen. He raised himself slightly and turned toward her. Her face, beautiful and serene beneath its disfigurements, wore an expression of settled purpose. For the life of him he dared not question her.

"That man, the interpreter," she said, "told you that if I were given up to the chief he and his followers would go away and molest you no more."

His forehead seamed with sudden anger.

"A mere bait," he protested. "In any event it is hardly worth discussion."

And the answer came, clear and resolute:

"I think I will agree to those terms."

At first he regarded her with undisguised and wordless amazement. Then the appalling thought darted through his brain that she contemplated this supreme sacrifice in order to save him. A clammy sweat bedewed his brow, but by sheer will power he contrived to say:

"You must be mad to even dream of such a thing. Don't you understand what it means to you—and to me? It is a ruse to trap us. They are ungoverned savages. Once they had you in their power they would laugh at a promise made to me."

"You may be mistaken. They must have some sense of fair dealing. Even assuming that such was their intention, they may depart from it. They have already lost a great many men. Their chief, having gained his main object, might not be able to persuade them to take further risks. I will make it a part of the bargain that they first supply you with plenty of water. Then you, unaided, could keep them at bay for many days. We lose nothing; we can gain a great deal by endeavoring to pacify them."

"Iris," he gasped, "what are you saying?"

The unexpected sound of her name on his lips almost unnerved her. But no martyr ever went to the stake with more settled purpose than this pure woman, resolved to immolate herself for the sake of the man she loved. He had dared all for her, faced death in many shapes. Now it was her turn. Her eyes were lit with a seraphic fire, her sweet face resigned as that of an angel.

"I have thought it out," she murmured, gazing at him steadily, yet scarce seeing him. "It is worth trying as a last expedient. We are abandoned by all save the Lord, and it does not appear to be his holy will to help us on earth. We can struggle on here until we die. Is that right when one of us may live?"

Her very candor had betrayed her. She would go away with these monstrous captors, endure them, even flatter them, until she and they were far removed from the island, and then—she would kill herself. In her innocence she imagined that self destruction under such circumstances was a pardonable offense. She only gave a life to save a life, and greater love than this is not known to God or man.

The sailor, in a tempest of wrath and wild emotion, had it in his mind to compel her into reason—to shake her as one shakes a wayward child.

He rose to his knees with this half-formed notion in his fevered brain; then he looked at her, and a mist seemed to shut her out from his sight. Was she lost to him already? Was all that had gone before an idle dream of joy and grief, a wizard's glimpse of mirrored happiness and vague perils? Was Iris, the crystal souled, thrown to him by the storm lashed wave, to be snatched away by some irresistible and malign influence?

In the mere physical effort to assure himself that she was still near to him he gathered her up in his strong hands. Yes, she was there, breathing, wondering, palpitating. He folded her closely to his breast and, yielding to the passionate longings of his tired heart, whispered to her:

"My darling, do you think I can survive your loss? You are life itself to me. If we have to die, sweet one, let us die together."

Then Iris flung her arms around his neck.

"I am quite, quite happy now," she sobbed brokenly. "I didn't imagine it would come this way, but—I am thankful—it has come."

For a little while they yielded to the glamour of the divine knowledge that amid the chaos of eternity each soul had found its mate. There was no need for words. Love, tremendous in its power, unfathomable in its mystery, had cast its spell over them. They were garbed in light, throned in a palace built by fairy hands. On all sides squatted the ghoul of privation, misery, danger, even grim death; but they heeded not the inferno; they had created a paradise in an earthly hell.

Then Iris withdrew herself from the man's embrace. She was delightfully shy and timid now.

"So you really do love me?" she whispered, crimson faced, with shining eyes and parted lips.

He fondled her hair and gently rubbed her cheek with his rough fingers. The sudden sense of ownership of this fair woman was entrancing. It almost bewildered him to find Iris nestling close, clinging to him in utter confidence and trust.

"But I knew, I knew," she murmured. "You betrayed yourself so many times. You wrote your secret to me, and though you did not tell me, I found your dear words on the sands and have treasured them next my heart."

What girlish romance was this? He held her away gingerly, just so far that he could look into her eyes.

"Oh, it is true, quite true," she cried, drawing the locket from her neck. "Don't you recognize your own handwriting, or were you not certain, just then, that you really did love me?"

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00.

Have Been Completed By the City School Enumerators.

School census takers in the city are getting along rather slowly, only two wards, the Second and Third, having been turned in completed.

The Second ward shows little increase, if any, and the third ward, where a great many colored residents live, shows a falling off of about twenty school children.

One or two enumerators think their wards will show an increase, but as they have not finished work yet, little can actually be told of the result.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHSCharged with Arson.

Princeton, Ky., April 17.—El Critten was arrested here on a charge of arson, it being alleged that he set fire to his store and started the conflagration which resulted in a loss of more than $15,000 early Thursday morning. Critten was released on a $500 bond. He denies the charge absolutely. The disastrous fire was the third in the last few weeks and in each instance there was evidence of incendiarism. The people of Princeton are somewhat excited because of the many fires, but many refuse to believe that Critten is guilty.

Made Neat Profit.

Madisonville, Ky., April 17.—John Brasher has sold to the Pratt-Worthington Lumber company, of Ohio, the timber on 2,000 acres in North Christian county for $24,000. Mr. Brasher purchased the land for $6,000.

Charlie Meacham for Senator.

Madisonville, Ky., April 17.—The Democratic senatorial committee of Christian and Hopkins counties adopted a resolution declaring that it is Christian county's turn to select the nominee for senator. In view of the previous endorsement of Chas. M. Meacham by the Christian county committee, a resolution was adopted providing that if no other candidate is announced by April 22 Mr. Meacham will be declared the nominee.

Grave Charges Against Officials.

Glasgow, Ky., April 17.—Quite a sensation was created here when Geo. Young, a colored barber, who was being tried for selling whiskey without licenses, stated that City Attorney Robert E. Coombs and County Attorney Thomas D. Underwood had furnished him with money to begin business for half of the profits and that they had agreed to dismiss all warrants against him by the prosecution in such a way to cause him no trouble. Ten or twelve witnesses corroborated Young's statement, and on these statements six warrants were sworn out for Underwood and Coombs late this afternoon. Underwood was arrested and gave bond for his appearance Monday. Coombs is out of town and his whereabouts is unknown. Underwood has been twice elected county attorney of this county, is married, has a wife and five children. Coombs belongs to one of the best families in the county and was a promising young lawyer.

Says Hargis Will Hang.

Lexington, Ky., April 17.—Col. C. J. Bronston made the opening statement for the commonwealth in the murder case against Judge James Hargis. Dispassionate and coolly, he reviewed the testimony the commonwealth bases its prosecution upon, and in closing his statement he said, pointing to Judge Hargis: "And that man's life shall pay the penalty."

Charles Robbins and Riley Coldiron were examined in the Hargis trial this morning. Both said they saw Curt Jett and Bill Britton in the court house with guns when Cockrill was assassinated.

Municipal Ticket Nominated.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 17.—Local Democratic politics was much simplified by the withdrawal of Judge R. Gorin from the race for the nomination for judge of the police court. Judge Gorin has for several years presided in the police court, and has been one of the most efficient officers the city ever had. There was a hot fight on between him and Oliver A. Roup, city editor of the Times-Journal, for the nomination for police judge. Judge Gorin believed he could win the fight, but after consulting with friends decided it was best for him to withdraw, doing so in order to devote more attention to his law practice and in the interest of party harmony.

The race for police judge was the only one in which there was a contest for the Democratic nomination in the primary, which was to have been held April 26. The Democratic committee met and Judge Gorin informed it of his withdrawal. The committee then called off the primary and nominated the following municipal ticket, no candidate of which has opposition:

Mayor, George T. Wilson, the incumbent; police judge, Oliver Anderson Roup; prosecuting attorney, Capt. H. H. Denhardt; councilmen, H. F. Stovall, J. R. Patterson, E. L. Hendrick, C. M. Coombs, John Moran, R. E. Lynch, Capt. Frank L. Strange, T. J. Dodd, W. L. Graves, Capt. Elmore T. Cooper, Lon D. Hanes and L. B. Grissom.

News From Wickliffe.

Wickliffe, Ky., April 17.—Mr. Ward, Sr., of Ward & Son, contractors, had an altercation with one of his men at the camp yesterday and while Mr. Ward went inside presumably to get his gun, the other party made off and Mr. Ward chased him a block or two, firing his revolver once but says he did not aim to hit the other man, shooting only to scare him. Mr. Ward was not put under arrest.

Although D. Barnett, who was shot here on March 30th, was for several days in a precarious condition, he is now getting along nicely and will probably be out in a few days.

IN SESSION HEREStars and Stripes Float Over Government Building.Judge Evans Rushing Through—
Court Will Probably Adjourn
By Noon Tomorrow.NEWS OF THE OTHER COURTS

The regular April term of federal court began this morning at 9 o'clock in the court room at the custom house, Judge Walter Evans, of Louisville, presiding. The equity docket shows no cases to be tried but there are about a dozen criminals to be tried and several cases of importance.

Most of the court officers arrived last night at 6 o'clock from Louisville. The officers are: Judge Walter Evans, District Attorney R. D. Hill, Assistant District Attorney M. H. Thatcher, U. S. Marshal A. D. James, Chief Deputy Walter A. Blackburn, Deputy U. S. Marshal Wm. Blades, J. R. Puryear, clerk, Geo. W. Saunders, deputy marshal and Court Crier W. S. Keane.

Miss Hortense Horton, a deputy of Marshal Blackburn, who has been coming with the other officers, is not here this time. This is the first court Miss Horton has missed in several years.

The first thing done in court this morning was the appointment of bailiffs. Messrs. Frank Dunn and Fayette Greif were appointed. Mr. Dunn looks after the prisoners and Mr. Greif acts as doorkeeper.

The first action of federal court this morning was the work of empanelling the grand and petit juries.

The grand jury was empaneled as follows: Henry Dotson, E. B. Blackburn, B. Parham H. C. Rice, C. T. Nabb, N. E. Williams, W. M. Cartwright, Jack Jones, J. W. Owen, Joe T. McClelland, J. M. Englert, Jno. Starr, John W. Fry, J. N. Yandell, A. F. Northington and W. N. Reese.

The petit jury was empaneled as follows: T. N. Fields, A. J. Smithson, T. E. Griffith, W. C. Carrico, T. J. Neeley, John Keibler, J. R. B. Cole, D. D. Nix, L. C. Starks, A. J. Bebout, M. N. Fisher, R. F. Stewart, J. H. Stone, Wm. J. Brown, R. H. Binford, R. W. Chrisman, O. C. Catlett, B. G. Herndon, George B. Pennebaker, Morton Adcock, W. E. Yancey, W. A. Langston and Jeff Hincey.

Civil Docket.

Attorney C. C. Grassham, of the city, formerly of Smithland, was sworn in to practice at the federal bar, the motion being made by Attorney James Campbell, Sr.

G. B. Jefferson was sworn in, on motion of Attorney John K. Hendrick to practice at the federal bar. In the cases of Robert A. Sexton, administrator of Charles Sexton, against the I. C. road and Robert Dawes, and Henry M. Ross, administrator of Richard White, against the C. & St. and N. O. and I. C. roads, and Bates-Rogers Construction Co., transcripts from Lyon and Livingston counties were filed transferring the cases to the federal court.

The case of Wm. Dudley against the I. C. road and Calvin Mitchell was transferred to the federal court, the transcript from Caldwell county, being filed this morning.

A transcript from Graves county in the case of Sallie A. Rutherford against the I. C. road was filed, transferring the case to the federal court.

In the case of the Fowler-Wolfe Sheet Iron and Metal works against the steamer Chattanooga, a motion was made to consolidate all actions against the boat. The motion was not acted on.

The first important case to be tried today in federal court was that of T. A. Ausenbaugh against the Ayer & Lord Tie Co., for something over $3,000 alleged to be due for timber purchased and not paid for.

The plaintiff alleges that he sold the defendant a lot of tie and standing timber in Lyon county and was paid for the ties only. He claims the sale was outright to the agent while the defendant claims it was conditional.

The evidence was concluded this afternoon and the case went to the jury. The jury later returned a verdict for the defendant, the Ayer & Lord Tie Co.

The grand jury returned the minutes of the commissioner's court in the cases against Will Jordan and Abe Doyle charged with bootlegging marked "ignored." Doyle was arrested here on a "dry Sunday" for selling whiskey.

Dave Landrum, colored, was acquitted of the charge of bootlegging. Luther Chambers, colored, was fined $100 and given 30 days in jail for bootlegging.

Press Lindsey, colored, was fined $100 and thirty days in jail for bootlegging.

The case of W. H. Mann against the Marion Zinc Co., will not be tried this term, an order being filed giving the defendant 90 days in which to take depositions.

Unless another judge is secured to try the case of T. M. Franklyn against Dr. R. M. Whitehead, it will not be tried this term. Judge Evans announced this morning in court that he did not feel physically able to hear the case and that the attorneys would have to agree on some other judge if they wanted the case tried. This is an action in which the plaintiff attempts to recover the sum of $15,000 for alleged malpractice. There are 60 witnesses in it and the case is attracting the greatest attention of any action this term.

The Criminal Docket.

Judge Evans seemed inclined to dispose of the criminal cases with dispatch.

The case against Sam Sweeney, the mail clerk who is alleged to have opened a registered letter, was continued. Sweeney having skipped his bond. He is still at large.

The case against M. G. Cope, for embezzlement, was continued.

The counterfeiting case against H. B. Duncan was continued. He is at large and his whereabouts not known. For a time it was reported Duncan was murdered at Mayfield, but an examination of the body supposed to be that of Duncan, dispelled the theory.

The case against Lindo Murphy for bootlegging was continued because the wrong witnesses had been summoned. District Attorney Hill stated he intended trying this case very carefully, as he considered it an important one. Lindo is known in Graves county as the "King of Bootleggers" and has been indicted and fined more than a hundred times for illicit whiskey selling.

The case against Grant Clark, colored, charged with bootlegging, was called but will probably be continued. Clark lives at Henry Station, Tenn., and is out on bond. His baby got burned sometime ago and this morning he received a message saying the child was dying, and will ask for a continuance that he might attend the bedside.

It is probable that court will last today and tomorrow morning as Judge Evans in empanelling the jury this morning stated the Jurymen would probably not be needed later than tonight.

A judgment against J. R. Duncan for $500 was filed, this being for bond for H. B. Duncan, charged with counterfeiting. L. B. Duncan, brother of H. B. Duncan and father of J. R. Duncan, went on the bond with his son and a few weeks ago died. J. R. Duncan is a barber in the city.

The case of Frank Slaughter against the N. C. and St. L. road was dismissed without prejudice. He sued for the loss of a foot cut off while working on the road as flagman.

The case of Shirley Timmons against the I. C. road was dismissed without prejudice.

The case of Ben T. Brown against the I. C. road was dismissed and settled.

The case of Mary Ciley against the I. C. road was dismissed without prejudice.

In the case of Amon Price against the steamer Dick Clyde, suit for $30 wages as pilot a compromise judgment was filed giving him $20.

Bankruptcy Docket.

Matt Smith, a petitioned bankrupt, was denied a discharge in bankruptcy.

In the matter of J. B. Wiley and E. Y. Ogilvie, the order of the referee for a discharge was affirmed by the court.

In the bankrupt case of W. Owen Hargrove, a discharge was granted.

This is the first time Judge Walter Evans has held court in the new court room since it has been carpeted and furnished. In November the court room had been finished but not entirely furnished. It is now one of the largest and finest court rooms in the state, and its furnishings are not to be surpassed anywhere.

Visiting Attorneys.

There are a number of prominent visiting attorneys attending court. Among them are Attorneys Henry Burnett, Louisville; H. T. Smith, Fulton; W. S. Mason and Sam Crossland, Mayfield; W. M. Smith, Fulton; Will Lynn, Charles Jetton, Murray; Pete Seay, Mayfield; Senator Newt Utley, Edysville; John G. Lovett, Benton; Gus Thomas, J. E. Robbins and Jim Evans, Mayfield.

Grand Jury Reports.

The grand jury reported this afternoon the following indictments, all prisoners being before the court: Press Lindsey, colored, bootlegging; Luther Chambers, colored, bootlegging; Dave Landrum, colored, bootlegging; Pony Murrell, colored, bootlegging; Spec Sawyer, white, bootlegging; Lee Bingham, colored, bootlegging; and Grants-Clark colored, bootlegging.

No Circuit Court.

There was no circuit court today, Judge Wm. Reed being busy at federal court, but tomorrow and Wednesday court will likely be held.
